

I CAN DO THAT!

DISCUSSION GUIDE

This is intended for use immediately or within twenty-four hours after the assembly program.

Allow 10-15 minutes to discuss the following questions:

1. What did you like best in the assembly program? Why?
2. How do you usually handle your problems?
3. Have you ever worked really hard to overcome a problem?
4. What did you learn from Ben Underwood? How can you apply that?
5. What did you learn from Alexa Dectis? How can you apply that?
6. What did you learn from Bethany Hamilton? How can you apply that?
7. What did you learn from Austin Gutwein? What could you do to help other kids?
8. What did you learn from Amiya Alexander? Think about some things you'd like to do, and think about ways to get started.
9. If you want to be as healthy and strong as possible, list some things some things to never do, some things to do less, and some things to do more (make three columns).
10. Without saying anything out loud, think of some ways you can be a friend like Chelsey's friend, Felicia, then plan to remember that every day.

Have older students search online for the names of the kids in the program (being careful, of course, about safe searching). Have them report interesting information they uncover.
